

Chelsom supply lighting scheme for Six Senses Douro Valley

Working in collaboration with New York based design studio Clodagh Design and The Parker Company, Chelsom created a stunning lighting scheme for the guestrooms of Europe's first Six Senses Resort and Spa located in Portugal's Douro Valley.

The luxurious Six Senses Douro Valley looks out to vine covered rolling hills and the River Douro below and is set in a beautifully renovated 19th-century manor house with 41 guest bedrooms, 9 suites and 7 villas.

As created by Clodagh Design, the resort features a contemporary décor wedded to the Six Senses natural style balanced with a nod to a past era that is true to the heritage of the Douro region.

Designed to enhance the exquisite interior scheme, all fittings created by Chelsom for the guestrooms were specified from the latest collection and modified to meet the exacting requirements of the design brief.

Taking inspiration from the simplicity of Japanese design, the Box table lamp featuring a cylindrical shade encased in a linear steel frame provides a distinctive addition to the desk space.

Swing reading lights with swivel arms and rotating cylindrical heads offer stylish and functional lighting for the bedside whilst the sleek and highly contemporary LED Crane floor lamp provides additional lighting, fusing clean and stylish design with the latest technology.

All pieces have been specified in a striking Black Bronze finish in keeping with the overall contemporary interior scheme, impeccably designed to exude a modern yet cozy atmosphere that remains sympathetic to its breathtaking surroundings.
